FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Community Relations Manager Named to Local Commission

James Lewis appointed to City of Alexandria Commission on Persons with Disabilities

Springfield, Virginia – Central Fairfax Services, Inc. (CFS) is pleased to announce the appointment of James Lewis, its Community Relations Manager, to the City of Alexandria Commission on Persons with Disabilities. James was appointed by the Alexandria City Council to the Commission at its April 13 meeting. The Commission on Persons with Disabilities researches programs and legislation relating to persons with physical and sensory disabilities and advises the City Council and members of the community about these programs and laws. It serves as a forum for persons with physical and sensory disabilities and serves as the local Disabilities Services Board.

“The Alexandria City Council was a pioneer when it established the Commission on Persons with Disabilities in the 1980s,” remarked Paul Wexler, CFS Executive Director. “This volunteer group has made significant contributions over the years to ensure the inclusiveness and rights of our fellow citizens with disabilities. James will be a strong advocate to further the mission and tradition of the Commission.”

James is a graduate of Central Michigan University, earning a Bachelor of Science degree in history and political science. While an undergraduate, he oversaw The David Garcia Project, a disability awareness program through the Volunteer Center. He was also the former Executive Director of the Michigan Disability
